Measure Calling for His Resignation is Drawn

OIL CASE WITNESS MISSING

Subpoena Servers Fail to Locate William B. Thompson

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press.)—A resolution calling for the resignation of Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, because of his connection with oil leasing program, was drawn up today by Senator Dill of Washington, a democratic member of the oil committee.

Senator Dill said he expected to press his resolution at the earliest opportunity.

Recently Roosevelt was severely criticized before the oil committee by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, and several Democratic senators have declared on the senate floor that the assistant secretary's close relationship with former Secretary Denby should have impelled him to follow his chief into retirement.

Failure of subpoena servers to locate William Boyce Thompson, former chairman of the Republican national committee finance committee, was reported to the senate oil committee today by the senate sergeant-at-arms.

Thompson was among the witnesses tried to appear this week in regard to stories of campaign contributions by oil interests. His home is in New York.

George White of Ohio, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, who also is under subpoena, was granted a week's delay on his plea of important business engagements.

The subpoena for Fred Upham of Chicago, treasurer of the Republican national committee, may be cancelled. Committee members are disposed to accept his public statement that he has no information on the subject under investigation.

The committee will resume its hearings tomorrow with R. H. Wilson, once candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma, on the stand. With W. L. Kistler, an oil promoter of Tulsa, Mr. Wilson is to be questioned regarding the connection prominent oil men had with state and national politics.

MILLION ATTACK

The attack in the senate on Secretary Mellon, opened Friday, when Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of Mellon's legal right to hold office, met resistance today from organization Republicans. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, informed the senate that the legal questions raised by the resolution had been considered fully before Mellon accepted the cabinet post.

Mellon has been advised of the old statute prohibiting a treasury secretary from engaging in trade or commerce. Senator Reed said, and had endeavored to evade cabinet service on the strength of these restrictions.

The late Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, a former attorney general, and secretary of state, was committed and had the law examined by a firm of Washington lawyers who on January 25, 1921, gave an opinion that there was "nothing in the ownership of stock in various corporations to disqualify Mellon from holding the office of secretary of the treasury."

This opinion, at the request of Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, was read to the senate.

POLICE BAFFLED

Mysterious Murder of New Jersey Man Investigated

NEW YORK — (United Press.)—Police today are working on the second mysterious murder in the metropolitan area within a week.

Authorities have as blind a trail to follow in the killing of Andrew Hickey, 40, of New York, who was killed with bullets while entering his home in Linden, N. J., as they have in the slaying of pretty Mrs. Walter Bauer by a "dark man" in a Ford sedan on Staten Island six days ago.

An unknown woman alighted from a bus with the war hero and was the last to see him alive. Neighbors aroused by the shots saw a vague figure dash from behind a tree where later a car was found.

The Hickey murder, the crime of the week, was solved by the police today.

NATION IS WORTH 320 BILLIONS

Total Increase in Riches is Placed at 72 Per Cent

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press.)—The wealth of the nation is $320,803,862,000, more than one half of which is real property and improvements. The per capita wealth is $2,913. Statistics of the country's wealth as of December 31, 1922, issued today by the census bureau, revealed that the total wealth increased 72.2 per cent and the per capita wealth 49.6 per cent in the ten years from 1912. All classes of property increased in value in the decade except live stock, which decreased 6.9 per cent to $5,807,104,000. The increases in money value of other classes of property, census bureau officials state, are to a large extent due to the rise in prices in recent years and so far as that is the case they do not represent corresponding increases in the quantity of wealth.

REAL PROPERTY

Taxed real property and improvements were valued at $185,908,625,000, an increase of 6.3 per cent in ten years; exempt real property (exclusive of national parks and monuments), $20,505,819,000, an increase of 66.3 per cent; farm implements and machinery, $2,504,438,000, an increase of 90.4 per cent. Manufacturing machinery, tools and implements, $15,783,250,000, an increase of 150.1 per cent; railroads and their equipment, $19,950,300,000, an increase of 23.5 per cent; privately owned transportation and transmission enterprises other than railroads, $13,607,570,000, an increase of 42.1 per cent; stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture and clothing, $75,982,407,000, an increase of 121.3 per cent and motor vehicles, $4,567,407,000. No comparison is possible for motor vehicles as no separate estimate was made in 1912.

The value of the United States navy is placed at $1,455,992,000, an increase of 259.4 per cent; privately owned water works, $260,885,000, an increase of 24.4 per cent; and gold and silver coin and bullion, $4,278,155,000, an increase of 63.5 per cent.

FIRE CAUSES $8,000 LOSS AT DELPHOS

Defective Flue Believed to Have Resulted in Home Fire

FURNISHINGS ARE DESTROYED

Structure Will Be Rebuilt, Owner Asserts Following Blaze

DELPHOS — (Special) — Flames drove three families homeless to the street and caused estimated property damage of $8,000 at the two-story brick structure, 403 N. Scott-st., owned by Frank E. Smith, Delphos business man.

Five gutted the interior of the house, destroyed furniture owned by two families and threatened adjoining property during the two hours that firemen battled the flames swept by a high wind.

Damage estimated at $8,000 was covered by $3,100 insurance, of which amount $2,000 was on the house and $1,100 on contents. Smith, who resided on the second floor, was the heavy loser.

Three families resided in the large stone structure. Smith and wife and L. E. McClintock and family occupied the second floor. L. A. Truesdale and wife lived on the first floor.

DEFECTIVE FLUE

Mrs. Frank Smith discovered the fire at 10 a. m. Monday when she went to her apartment from the basement of the house.

The fire had spread to a store room adjoining.

Bed clothing and furniture in the store room fed the flames which leaped high, fanned by a strong wind. The entire second floor was enveloped in flames when firemen arrived and their efforts were directed toward saving other houses.

Neighbors saved household goods owned by Truesdale but furniture of the other two families was consumed. Steady stream of water directed on the building damaged the ground floor of the building which was saved when the fire was placed under control at noon.

Fire is believed to have originated from a defective flue in the Smith apartment, as Mrs. Smith discovered the blaze near the flue.

The families made homeless are to take refuge in the Dalk apartment, Canal and Second-sts, until the damaged structure is rebuilt. Work is to start at once, Smith stated after the blaze had been extinguished.

Texas Man Confesses to Murder of Sheriff

ANDERSON, Texas. — (United Press.)—Commodore Bullock, 33, who confessed to the murder of Sheriff L. E. Morehead during a community entertainment at Steep Hollow school house, will probably be sent to an asylum. Bullock told authorities his "dead sister in Heaven sent me word to do it."

Sheriff Morehead was taking the part of a country constable in a play when as he started across the stage, the report of a shotgun was heard, and he crumpled to the floor. The audience thought it was part of the play and applauded.

I was born in 1856 at Fond du Lac, a saw-mill town in those days. There were seven children in the family, but there is only one left now.

When I heard that my brother, a year and a half my senior, was to go to school, I wanted to go, too. At first there were some objections, but then my father said I could learn to talk there—if nothing else—and, at any rate, I would be out of the way at home.

So they let me go, altho I was only three years and four months old.

"Red Squirrel" the teacher called me, for I was a little shaver with a horrid top, and I was hopping around most of the time.

The teacher said I was positively inclined, had a good memory, was good at mathematics, but poor at chemistry,—a knowledge of the last because of the greatest importance in my later work.

After his marriage to a St. Johns school teacher, he went to Wisconsin. He lost an eye, suffered other injuries, and had to settle down to peddling for a living.

PLANTS CLOSED BY FLOODS

Plants in Ohio and Pennsylvania Badly Damaged

PITTSBURGH UNDER WATER

Growth in Death List Shown in Late Reports

PITTSBURGH — (Associated Press) — Flood waters of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, swollen by rains and melted snows from the mountain regions of western Pennsylvania and Ohio, this morning were sweeping westward thru the Ohio valley today. A stage of 41 feet was expected this afternoon at Wheeling, which would submerge the district fronting the river bank.

Streets in most of the Pittsburgh district bordering the rivers were inundated, some to a depth of six or seven feet, Sunday when both the rivers left their channels. A stage of 29.2 feet, seven feet above the flood stage was recorded, the highest in 11 years. Much damage was done to industrial plants and many operations will be suspended until repairs are made. The flood waters were receding today.

Railroad transportation was greatly affected but service was being slowly restored. Tracks of both the Baltimore and Ohio and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie roads were submerged in sections of the city. Eight deaths in western Pennsylvania were attributed to the flood. Five others occurred at Kitzmiller, Maryland, when an entire family was swept down the Potomac river.

RIVERS STILL RISING

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Thousands of factory workers at St. Louis and East Liverpool today faced temporary unemployment if waters of the Ohio river continued to rise. With a stage of 42 feet predicted for today practically all big industrial plants in these two cities would be forced to curtail their operations affecting 8,000 men.

With the drowning of Chester Wilde, 11, swept into the Muskingum river at Coschocton yesterday as he attempted to ride a bicycle over a flooded road, deaths in Ohio due to the flood and storm mount.

Lima Company May Recognize Union, End Strike

LIPPINCOTT WRITES LETTER

Says Added Facilities Are Needed in City

Street cars of the Lima City Street Railway Co. will be placed in the barns and left there if the Public Utilities Commission grants permission for the operation of buses here and they are started.

This statement comes from F. A. Bundy, superintendent of the lines. It is taken to be the arranged policy of the company should the strikers gain their fight for sanction to their bus program.

But it is not believed that buses will be started here. Altho there has been no announcement from the company officials here, it is known that pressure has been brought to bear on T. W. Newhall, representative of the bondholders who own the lines, for a recognition of the union.

MAY RECOGNIZE UNION.

While that was the point which really precipitated the strike here a few months ago and brought forth the statement that the company would never recognize the union so far as dealing with its officers was concerned, it is believed that the company may yield this point to end the fight for buses.

Should the union be recognized and satisfactory arrangements be made with the strikers, it has been indicated that the bus fight would be dropped and the men return to work. This intimation did not come from the strikers themselves or any of their officials, but from Columbus where the whole proposition is taking on a political aspect.

According to the rumors afloat at the capital, a well known politician who aspires to the Republican nomination for governor has cast his lot with the strikers in order to gain backing of the street car unions throughout the state. It is declared there he is using his influence in this direction and may be able to make considerable headway.

Bundy's statement was based on the assumption that there is not enough business for both the street cars and buses.

LIPPINCOTT WRITES LETTER.

Another angle of the fight for buses was brought to light Monday in the form of a letter written to the utilities commission by Prosecutor E. T. Lippincott, acting as an individual, in which he says he is of the opinion that transportation in the city is not adequate.

The letter is written on a letterhead of the law firm of Lippincott & Lippincott and says:

"I have been asked to make a statement to you as to the necessity of an extension of some sort of transportation lines in this city.

"In my judgment there is no doubt but that this city is hampered because of lack of transportation facilities of some sort. There are large sections of the city not served by adequate regular transportation facilities."

Lippincott said Monday that he had been asked by several persons to make a statement. He did not indicate whether or not it was the strikers who sought his influence, with the utilities commission to aid their cause for buses, but the letter, written as it was, would indicate that this was the case.

DAUGHERTY QUIZ TO CONTINUE

Course Decided on by Investigating Committee

WILL HOLD GASTON MEANS

Warrant Issued in New York for Witness' Arrest

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—The Senate Daugherty investigating committee decided today to continue its inquiry despite Daugherty's retirement to private life.

At the same time committee members announced they intended to hold Gaston B. Means, former department of justice investigator, in attendance under a subpoena, in spite of the issuance today of a bench warrant by the federal court at New York ordering Means returned there to answer to charges of conspiracy.

The committee's immediate objective will be to clear up the facts as to the department of justice prosecution of war frauds and anti-trust cases.

SUBJECT TAKEN UP

When news was received of Judge J. J. Harbo's order in New York for Means' arrest, the committee took up the subject in executive session.

"This is an apparent attempt on the part of H. C. Todd, the special assistant to the attorney general in charge of Means' prosecution, to block this investigation," said Senator Wheeler, the committee prosecutor. "It is the committee's purpose to keep Means here as a witness and to return his services for the committee."

"Of course that prosecution at New York could be conducted at any time."

Means testified early in the committee's procedure, telling of money payments made to Jess Smith in connection with pending cases.

A decision on the motion before the committee to have Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general cited to the senate for contempt was postponed. The question was to be taken up later today.

At the open hearing tomorrow, the committee will replace on the witness stand H. L. Scaife, former investigator for the government in war fraud cases.

HEAT MAY BE REPLACED BY OATS AND SOY BEANS

Oats and soybeans seem destined to replace wheat on many farms in central and southern Ohio this spring, winter wheat, according to reports, is in poor shape in the southern half of the state. Northern Ohio, however, seems to have good wheat.

H. Ridge, Allen Co. extension agent, reports that the wheat in the county went thru the winter in good shape from present appearances.

Southern Ohio wheat suffered this winter from lack of snow. A good blanket of snow, crops specialists say, would have protected the crop from below-zero cold spells. Winter wheat in Allen Co. is in much better shape because this part of the state had plenty of snow.

With prospects for the wheat crop doubtful, many farmers in central and southern Ohio are turning to oats and soybeans to be sown this spring on the wheat acres. A number of Allen Co. farmers have signified their intentions of sowing soybeans in place of oats, Ridge says.

TOLLEDO — Twenty persons have been subpoenaed to appear in the county grand jury room in the court house Tuesday to testify before H. H. Griswold, special investigator of justice court irregularities in Lucas Co.

County Prosecutor Roy Stuart said Monday that he did not believe the justice court will be taken before the grand jury until next week and possibly the week following. He said that Griswold, assisted by state examiners Gilchrist and Duncanson, are now investigating the justice court records and will have a full report for the attorney general when he arrives here late this week.

JAPAN SUFFRAGE BIG ISSUE

Kiyowu Prominent Statesman of Movement

GOVERNMENT TROUBLED

Election Momentous in Affairs of the Nation

(BY J. W. T. MASON)
NEW YORK—(United Press)—Japanese elections, which will determine whether or not the so-called "peers' government" is to continue to rule in Tokyo, will be momentous in Japan's history. If the present administration is supported, it will mean the Japanese voters have decided against all parliamentary government.

Viscount Kiyoura, the prime minister, represents the old-time principles of "elder statesmen" rule. He tried to control parliament without a majority in the lower house, but with the support of the peers. Failing in this effort, a new conservative party, called the Seiyuhon, was organized to back Kiyoura, and general elections were then ordered. Kiyoura hopes to come back into power by the aid of the Seiyuhon, holding the balance of power in the diet, and so able to further the interest of personal government.

PATERNALISM STRONG

Objections to extending the principles of democracy in Japan are based on fears of the elder statesmen that the average Japanese citizen does not take the responsibilities of government seriously. The feeling of paternalism is strong. It is curious that this attitude should find its chief representative in Viscount Kiyoura, for he is wholly a product of democracy. He began life so poor and of so low rank that he changed his name in order to get an entirely fresh start. By hard work he rose thru various grades to become the head of the state.

Viscount Kiyoura has many qualities of a spiritual mystic. He has just issued an invitation to representatives of Christianity, Buddhism and the native Japanese religion, Shinto, to attend a conference for the purpose of trying to revive national interest in spiritual matters. He has also ordered the bureau of shrines to begin a propaganda in support of ancestor worship, which he calls the "foundation of the national ideals." By ancestor worship, the Japanese try to express a sense of unity between mankind and man's spiritual origin.

RELIGION OF DEMOCRACY

Substitution of religious interest for exclusive application to materialism is the plan Viscount Kiyoura has in mind as the answer to the demand among the Japanese for more democracy in government. Nevertheless, there is the possibility that if Kiyoura is returned to power that he will introduce a bill in parliament granting full adult suffrage to Japan. At present suffrage is greatly curtailed because it is limited to taxpayers.

Kiyoura, indeed, is becoming the spokesman of a new movement, as yet not fully articulated in Japan, which seeks to hold fast to spiritual origins, while, at the same time, preparing the way for popular government. The many difficulties democracies in the west are having in keeping their governments pure are being closely studied by Japanese administrators. The Japanese want to save themselves, if they can, from moving in a similar direction.

THEY ARE TRYING TO FIND A WAY TO PREVENT DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT FROM DEGENERATING INTO CORRUPTION AND SCRAMBLE FOR OFFICE BY THE UNIT.

Viscount Kiyoura believes that if interest in spiritual matters can be revived, the problem will be solved.

FARM MEN AND WOMEN TO STUDY A RURAL PROGRAM

A committee of about 20 representative farm men and women from 25 many different parts of the state will meet in Columbus Monday and Tuesday, March 21 and April 1, to approve a rural program for Ohio, a job begun a few weeks ago at Farmers' Week.

Approximately 500 Ohio farmers and their wives took part in the Farmers' Week conferences on the building of Ohio's rural program. At that time, considering the past, the present, and the future of Ohio agriculture, they made the start toward shaping a state agricultural program.

About 100 poultrymen, for example, met with poultry specialists and definitely declared for a program that would stress, in this order, feeding, housing, breeding, brooding and rearing, marketing and diseases. Ohioans interested in farm engineering, assured engineering specialists during Farmers' Week that the care, repair and operation of farm machinery interested them more than drainage and building.

2000 MILES OVER ICE TO SEE BIRDS

SEATTLE — (Special)—Birds in practically unexplored parts of Alaska are to be paid impromptu visit by a party of ornithologists planning to set sail from here this spring.

H. W. Brandt, wealthy Cleveland produce merchant, is financing the expedition and will head it on its polar tour. He is to be accompanied by a party of experts from the U. S. Biological Survey and Prof. S. S. Dickey of Waynesburg, Pa.

In order to arrive at the breeding place of the wild fowl which they intend studying, it will be necessary for the scientists to travel over more than 2,000 miles of ice and snow in dog-drawn sledges.

They are particularly anxious to observe the habits of the arctic falcon, a little-known feathered desperado whose destructive tendencies each year costs the lives of countless beneficial birds.

HIGH SCHOOLS ON APPROVED LIST

Both Lima Institutions Retained on Accredited Rolls

Lima Central and South high schools have been unqualifiedly retained as members of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, it was decided at the annual meeting of the association at Chicago last week. School authorities here have received a letter to this effect.

This means that pupils from either of the Lima high schools will continue to be admitted to colleges of the association without any preliminary examination.

This retention of Central and South in the association without warning or other disqualifications gives Lima schools the highest credit and standing it is possible for a high school to attain, it is said.

Central has been on the accredited list since the organization of the association, except for a temporary suspension last year, when the local school was left out of the organization pending the correction of several minor errors. Central's standing in the organization was immediately restored upon their correction.

South high school has been on the accredited list since the school was opened, five years ago.

DR. BAKER DEAD

Head of Anti-Saloon League Dies at Westerville

WESTERVILLE, Ohio — (Associated Press)—Arrangements for the funeral of Dr. P. A. Baker, for 20 years superintendent of the National Anti-Saloon League, who died at his home here late yesterday, were being made today.

Dr. Baker's death was due to complications from which he had been suffering for months. Had he lived until April 10 he would have been 65 years old.

Dr. Baker recently announced that April 9, at Indianapolis, he would present his resignation as head of the league to the board of trustees and it was expected at that meeting his successor would be named.

Five men are being spoken of in connection with the position. They are: Wayne B. Wheeler of Washington, general counsel and legislative superintendent of the league; Rev. R. N. Holsapple, superintendent of the Michigan league; Rev. E. J. Moore of Westerville, assistant general superintendent; Rev. F. Scott McBride of Chicago, Illinois superintendent, and Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington of Westerville, general manager of the league's publishing interests and general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism.

3 PERSONS DEAD IN HOSPITAL FIRE

Institution in Michigan Wiped Out by Flames

NEGAUNEE, Mich. — (Associated Press)—Three persons were killed when fire, believed to have been caused by a defective chimney, last night destroyed the Negamene hospital.

Alex Martinson, 31, night orderly, gave his life in vainly trying to save Mrs. Richard Speland, 45, mother of eight children, and Jack Kelly, 53, pioneer resident of Negamene.

After arousing Sophia Lehtinen, a cook, and enabling her to escape, Martinson and Miss Ingeborg P. Sosa, nurse, attempted to rescue three patients in the institution.

Miss Impi Latinen, recently operated on, was brought out safely. Her condition is critical.

Firemen later brought out the bodies of Mrs. Speland and Kelly. Martinson was found alive but he died later.

The hospital, a 25 bed institution, was destroyed with a loss estimated at $25,000. It was owned by Dr. J. H. Andrus and W. H. Sheldon.

PAIR FOUND DEAD

Murder and Suicide in Chicago, Home Suspected

CHICAGO. — (United Press)—Accepting the theory that E. E. Sedlack, commercial artist, shot and killed his wife and then ended his own life, Henry P. Wolff, Elmhurst police chief, declared, announced today no further investigation of the double killing would be made.

Sedlack and his wife were found dead in their beds Sunday by Dorothy, their 11-year-old daughter for whom an elaborate birthday party had been planned. She summoned neighbors who called in Dr. A. W. Marquardt, a nearby physician. The couple had been dead several hours, the doctor said, after an examination.

"It is certain that Mr. Sedlack shot his wife and then ended his own life," Henry P. Wolff, Elmhurst police chief, declared.

Friends of the family said Sedlack was despondent because of failing eyesight, Wolff announced.

DELPHOS CANAL IS FULL OF WATER: SPRING SIGNS

DELPHOS — High water in the canal in this city is one of the many symbols of spring. The Miami and Erie canal overflowed its banks Saturday afternoon in a field at Marbletown. The water is level with its banks all thru the city and with another large rain it is certain to flood many basements of the business district bordering the canal.

The Flat-Ford creek is also on the rampage, and has overflowed at South and Main-sts., where the water is more than a foot deep, making it impossible for traffic to get thru of pedestrians to reach their homes without a detour.

CHIEF PLEES REPORT

WASHINGTON — The report that Adolfo De La Huerta, the revolutionary leader, had fled from Mexico was repugnant in today's consular dispatches from Progress, and state department officials were inclined to believe that the story was true.

AUTO DESTROYED

DELPHOS — Ford touring car belonging to an unidentified driver had a close shave Sunday morning at Scott's crossing. The auto had an Indiana license and was struck by an east bound car at 2 a. m., breaking both rear wheels and damaging it slightly on the body. The driver, who escaped uninjured, took the same car that hit him and left for Lima.

MUCH COOLIDGE MONEY CHARGED

Methods of Campaign in South Dakota Attacked.

"EVIDENCE OF LAVISHNESS"

Compared With Wood and Lowden Drives in 1920

CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—Charges that "there was much more evidence of lavishness" in the Coolidge primary campaign in South Dakota than was noted in the Wood and Lowden campaigns in that state in 1920, when criticism of the expenses incurred in a senate inquiry into campaign funds, were made today in a telegram from Senator Peter Norbeck, a leader in the Johnson campaign.

The telegram also charged employment of federal workers in the "elaborate headquarters" of the Coolidge managers. Senator Norbeck, pledged to the Johnson candidacy, was elected as a delegate-at-large in the primary last week.

The telegram challenged the denial of William M. Butler, national director of the Coolidge forces, that excessive amounts were expended in South Dakota.

STATEMENT DENIED.—The statement of the Coolidge management as to their expenses in South Dakota is untrue in many respects," the telegram said.

"They spent about $15,000 in advertising alone during only the last week, misrepresenting Hiram Johnson's record. During this period the Johnson committee spent only $300 for advertising.

"Paid Coolidge organizers were numerous in trains and hotels. Paid workers were much in evidence on the street corners of our villages and towns.

"Checks were sent into the smallest villages by the Coolidge organization with instructions to draw for more if needed. A daily newspaper was established in the state capital to champion the Coolidge cause.

"Criticism was frequently made of the expenditures of the Wood-Lowden campaign in 1920 and led to investigation by the senate; but there was much more evidence of lavishness in the Coolidge campaign. I believe the expenses would average $3 for every vote received. Indications are that some larger counties were financed from outside and not from state headquarters. Outside corporations ran thousands of lines of advertising in every paper in the state, for three weeks preceding the election.

"Among Coolidge speakers were members of congress, a member of the cabinet and a former cabinet officer. Neither effort nor expense was spared by the Coolidge managers, but the farmers and working people saved the day. Not only is the Johnson majority substantial, but the Johnson delegation of which I am one, appears on partial returns, to be victorious by a much larger majority."

On Marriage

BREAKIN' HOME TIES

Marriage hain't goin' t' git no where as a first class institution till th' fifty-fifty policy is adopted. Jest because so many couples don't git divorced is no sign they're happy. It's a rare marriage that hain't lop-sided. A great many people try t' make the most o' marriage an' stand fer lots o' things that would bust up a business partnership in twenty-four hours. They just reason, "Well, we're up aginst an' ther's nothin' t' do but like it," jest as we reason when a tire blows out a million miles from nowhere. Most couples git along fine before ther married, but after ther hooked up, ever' mean quality each one's got seems t' pop out. Marriage has allus been called a lottery, but why should it be a lottery unless either o' th' contractin' parties expect t' git th' best o' it? Men an' women don't shop around enough when they begin t' consider gittin' married. Good looks plays entirely too big a part in marriage, while th' qualities o' mind an' heart that don't fade are rarely ever considered. Ther seems t' be gittin' t' be more an'

more marriages where th' wife goes her way an' th' husband goes his—a sort o' mutual understandin' that each is not t' meddle with th' other's natural bent. An' it's doubtful if offsprings o' such arrangements ever come t' any good, if by chance, there should be any offsprings. Marriage should be a business proposition—not a cold, blooded dollars an' cents business proposition, but a partnership fermed t' handle an' promote th' success o' th' firm. Marriage is th' mergin' o' two lives into an entirely new concern an' each member o' th' firm should share equally in all th' vicissitudes an' all the happiness. We allus pity a sweet, little cowed wife that imagines her husband is a grand, big man, a little rough an' selfish, an' stungy, but "her man." She lays out his socks an' shirts, an' if he's leavin' town, she packs his valise, an' if he's late fer dinner, she's afraid t' bother him over th' phone. An' we can't bear th' perfect husband that never knows whether he's goin' t' eat at home, or at th' restaurant, or at all, who changes th' bird, an' goes t' bed if his wife hain't home, an' 'll eat a door knob if it's served t' him. O' course, some marriages have got t' fail because brains an' fair dealin' are jest as essential in buildin' up a happy home as they are in buildin' up a prosperous business.

Lima Motorists Will Attend the Chicago Convention

Lima automobile club is among the Ohio organizations which is to send a delegation to the national conference in Chicago April 11 for the purpose of ratifying the recently proposed merger of the American Automobile association and the National Motorists association. The Lima Automobile association, affiliated with the latter organization, has already indicated its approval of the consolidation plan. The Ohio delegation is pledged to ratify the proposed plans. The delegates from this state will represent more than 100 clubs, and 100,000 motorists.

Their voice is expected to carry considerable weight in the convention, as the Ohio State Automobile association has a membership of approximately one-tenth on the total membership of the proposed amalgamation.

Decision of the convention will represent the opinion of nearly a half million car owners. Election of Lima delegates, which was to have been held last week, will be held by the board of trustees of the automobile club Thursday night. Lynn B. Timmerman is already named as delegate-at-large from the state.

DAUGHERTY MEN "SEWED UP"

Colledge Leaders Not Afraid of Political Vendetta

ESSENTMENT FADES AWAY

Attorney General Declares President is All Right

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)
WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Coolidge leaders no longer fear a political "vendetta" headed by Mr. Daugherty and supported by Daugherty's Ohio friends. For Daugherty and his friends are safe "sewed up," the Coolidge managers feel, so that they can do no harm without Samson-like, pulling a Republican temple down about their ears.

When Daugherty went out of the cabinet, breathing bitterness and resentment, many predicted he would make trouble for the administration in Ohio, which is always debating ground politically. There has been, for a long time, resentment among the "Harding group" in Washington, against being forced into the background here, following Harding's death. This resentment was intensified by the Daugherty incident and reached its climax at his dismissal.

Some weeks ago Daugherty gave a statement that he would carry his case to the people in a stump campaign. That seemed to preface a Daugherty fight against Coolidge.

But, resting at Atlantic City and with his good humor somewhat restored, Daugherty has been quoted as saying that he intends to continue as a candidate in Ohio, for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention, adding that Coolidge is all right.

If Daugherty does that, his Ohio friends may be expected to do everything possible to insure his election as an evidence of their faith in him and as a protest against his dismissal. But the fact that every vote for Daugherty is a vote for Coolidge suddenly decide to run as a Hiram Johnson man, which is the acme of absurdity.

There is no telling now what some of Daugherty's angry friends may do at the Republican convention, but that is a bridge the Coolidge managers are not yet trying to cross. They feel that Mr. Coolidge, by approving Daugherty as a Coolidge delegate some weeks ago, performed another piece of "smart politics" and rendered the revenge of Daugherty's Ohio henchmen impotent so that as the Republican convention is concerned.

(Copyright, 1924.)
ATLANTIC CITY—(Associated Press)—Harry M. Daugherty, who has been here on a vacation since he resigned as attorney general, expects to leave today for Washington where he says he has "quite a few things to look after."

In a statement last night he admitted that he was still the devoted friend and supporter of President Coolidge and that he had no thought of withdrawing as a candidate at large from Ohio to the Republican national convention. He did not, he supposed it was too late to withdraw. He said he was feeling fine and that he would take care of himself "until reason fully restored and time and truth fully vindicate me."

CHILD IS KILLED IN RENEWED FAMILY FEUD

ROOSEVILLE, Ark.—A child was killed and eight members of the Allen and McCarron families were wounded in the renewal of a feud in Lick Creek Valley, near here.

The McCarrons, firing from their house and the Van Allens, barricaded behind a wagon on the road, maintained a constant fire until the last member of both families was wounded.

The difficulty arose over a trivial matter. Sam McCarron, 12, and Toby Van Allen, 12, quarreled at school house in the valley when they called Sam's elder sister "bad names."

The three men and women entered a taxicab Sunday at railroad station here and were driven into the country, according to the police.

On a deserted road, Harry Thomas, the taxicab driver was covered with a revolver while the two men and woman seized Engle, robbed him and then threw him from the machine. He is charged.

BIG PRODUCTION TO FALL FARMERS RECORDS REVEAL

Farm records from several Ohio counties indicate that hog production has passed the crest in this state, a large reduction being certain this year. Allen-to farmers have sold or butchered a fair percent of their brood sows, and the average runs about the same as the rest of the state. County Agent H. J. Ridge says:

Twenty Greene-co. farmers, for example, had 313 brood sows on hand on Jan. 1, 1923. Their intention at the beginning of this year was to reduce the number of these animals to 258 brood sows, a reduction of nearly 25 percent. Farmers in Shelby, Henry and Auglaize-co. have reduced the number of their brood sows to an average of 24 per cent. This holds good for practically the entire state.

FRENCH WILL NOT LEAVE RUHR

Policies of New Cabinet Declared by Poincare

EXPECTS EARLY SETTLEMENT

Reorganized Ministry is Presented to Chamber

PARIS—(Associated Press)—In presenting his new ministry to the chamber of deputies today Premier Poincare reaffirmed all the policies of his late government and expressed "firm hope" for rapid liquidation of Germany's reparations after the expert committees have handed in their report.

The chamber gave M. Poincare a fairly cool reception when he mounted the tribune. A large number of deputies broke into laughter when the premier said none of the men chosen for the new ministry had abandoned any of his opinions.

The Republican policies practiced in the formation of the new cabinet, M. Poincare declared, had as their object pursuance of the international policies of the former government and pursuance also of the economic and financial policies which had been approved by a majority of the chamber. Regarding the German occupation the premier said:

"France cannot withdraw her troops from the Ruhr except in proportion to payments. She will not exchange positive pledges for uncertain promises, but she has firm hope that after the experts have handed in their report a general settlement and rapid liquidation of the reparations will become possible. As soon as the work of the experts has terminated, France will be ready to study it and seek with our friends to find the elements of a final solution."

Poincare referred only incidentally to France's war debts, while discussing the financial situation. "We must at all costs keep out of our finances all the germs of inflation," he said. "The time is no more when peoples can shut themselves up tranquilly at home, draw their budget as they like and disinterest themselves with their neighbors."

"Today there is no nation which is not exposed to the curiosity of others. If we had debtors, we have creditors also and until a concerted general settlement is reached we will be obliged to practice attentive reserve."

The chamber received with a great deal of amusement M. Poincare's affirmation that the government adhered to the policy of resisting any and all appropriations which were not balanced by corresponding receipts, this being the point on which his preceding cabinet fell and which was insisted upon particularly by M. De Lasteyrie, the finance minister, who was left out of the new cabinet. Successful efforts to stabilize the franc, the premier remarked, would have no efficacy unless this chamber and its successors persevered in an inexorable resolution to balance all budgets.

The passage most applauded was that in which the premier declared that France would not evacuate the Ruhr until Germany undertook regulated reparation payments.

HOUSTING OF 'PINKS' DEMANDED

Movement Against Northwestern Pacifist Students Begun

CHICAGO—(United Press)—A movement to oust the "pacifist pinks" from the student body of Northwestern University, was under way today. The movement was initiated by world war veterans following a patriotic mass meeting in the University gymnasium yesterday at which President Walter Dill Scott placed the University on record against the activities of the Pacifist students.

"The attitude of the university towards war is that we should risk our all in the defense of our nation," President Scott declared in a speech. President Coolidge sent a telegram of commendation for the officials who promoted the meeting, stating that "the flag as the symbol of your best and deepest national sentiment, must always be assured the respect and devotion of whoever presumes to be worthy of the privilege of American citizenship."

Colonel O. C. Smith, Spanish-American War veteran, one of the active spirits, behind the meeting declared it was not enough for the "university to whitewash itself" and demanded ousting of the student pacifists. The question has been agitated against the entire student body and Methodist-Episcopal officials since a large number of theological students at the University pledged themselves to refrain from taking up arms in any cause.

H. K. Sollenberger, of Hamilton, R. A. Offenbaur and W. A. Pfau, of Lima, will speak at a meeting of the Scoutmasters' Training school Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. all scoutmasters and assistants will meet at scout headquarters to make preliminary arrangements for the summer camp.

IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY—

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

—BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY—

FOOD THAT STAYS BY YOU

There was a newspaper legend several years ago to the effect that John D. Rockefeller thought a whole lot of his first stomach and was willing to pay more than a nickel for a second stomach if he could get one.
Well, most of us have a second stomach, like a cow. I say like a cow—maybe I am wrong about that,
but the cow is generally conceded several stomachs. The Chinese legend about doctors is still current —I heard a Professor McElroy get it off in a radio talk about conditions in China only the other day and nobody laughed. So I feel I am entitled to refer to the cow's string of stomachs.

Anyhow, most of us humans are equipped with two stomachs virtually and so far as all digestive purposes are concerned. The upper or first stomach is the one we like to blame for a lot of difficulties which really arise from lesions of the lower stomach. Most of our food is digested in the lower stomach. With a little special care and precaution about feeding, one may worry along for several months or years after total removal of the upper or first stomach, but when any considerable part of the second or lower stomach becomes injured or diseased or destroyed life is very difficult. The lower stomach is commonly called the duodenum, and it is here that all carbohydrate food is digested and most of the process of digestion of proteins and fats is conducted. The pancreatic juice is delivered to the duodenum; so is the bile. These juices are even more essential for digestion than is the gastric juice.

Working people have a conviction that certain foods "stay by you" and they assume that such foods are preferable to maintain strength and warmth and supply muscular energy.
A food which stays by literally remains longer in the upper stomach.
While something remains in the stomach the normal tonic contraction of the empty stomach is postponed and the rhythmic spasmodic contractions which amount to hunger pangs are delayed. So the food that "stands by you" is the food that puts off your appetite or hunger for a longer time. That does not mean that it gives you any more strength or energy than food which leaves the stomach in a shorter time.

Protein foods (meat, cheese, white of egg, fish, peas, beans, nuts) remain longer in the upper stomach than carbohydrates (bread, cereals, starchy vegetables, sugars and sweets) do, but ounce for ounce the carbohydrates yield quite as much energy as proteins do. The fats and oils remain longer than the carbohydrates, but not so long as the proteins, and fats yield nearly twice as much energy as proteins do.

The average mixed meal is not entirely out of the stomach in less than four hours, but parts of it have passed thru the second stomach and as far as the ileo-cecal valve before the last of it leaves the first stomach. A meal of bread ordinarily leaves the first stomach within 1½ hours; if meat is taken with it the time is prolonged to four hours or more. Cheese, being a mixture of protein and fat, has good staying value. Water remains but a few minutes in the stomach, little or none of it being absorbed from the first stomach.

Fellowship of Prayer

(Copyright, 1924)

Read Mt. 12:45-13:9. Text:
12:50. For whosoever shall do the will of my Father, he is my brother, and sister and mother.

"He said of all who would join him in doing the will of God, in working for a friendly and honest world, that they would be mother, sister and brother to him. He would gather men about him in such close personal relationship as to share his own religious experience with them. They would feel God as he did."

MEDITATION. In doing, the world's work we are not to feel that we work alone in the Father's field, but that the upward life of the will of God is with every unselfish workman; also the good impulses of men may be called into active cooperation by effective invitation.
When men unite to make the best in life prevail they will be conscious of the approving love of their Heavenly Father and come to a new realization of the brotherhood of men.

PERSONAL QUESTION: Am I strong enough to work happily with unattractive people?
PRAYER. Almighty God, may our hearts be strengthened by the memory of thy promises. Let everything that would separate us from Christ be far removed and tender our lives to the leadings of thy spirit in Christ's name. Amen.

A THOUGHT

To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice.—Prov. 21:3.

Justice satisfies everybody, and justice alone.—Emerson.

JUST FOLKS

—BY EDGAR A. GUEST—

THE OLD CRAYON PORTRAIT
The old crayon portrait of father, at last we have put away;
We have stored it high up in the attic, and stored it, I fancy, to stay.

'Tis not that we think less of father, or have ceased to remember his name,
'Tis because we have tired of that picture, and tired of that horrible frame.

I remember the day that we bought it. I remember the man who appeared
And earnestly pleaded with mother
I remember the cut of his beard.

I remember the pictures he showed her: today I can hear him tell He could make one of father just like them—seven dollars and a half, and she fell!

She loaned him the group we'd had taken, with Dad in the center, and he Even there lacked the smile of good nature which I'd grown accustomed to see.

But the man said he'd give him a twink; the forehead he'd slight enlarge.
And trim up his whiskers a little,
and make no additional charge.

Well, he burnished and polished up father, his head he threw up
in the air,
He gave him a large Adam's apple,
and a marvelous necktie to wear!

But none of the children would have known him if the man hadn't told us his name—
But when mother had paid for the picture, she went in debt for the frame.

That old crayon portrait of father,
at last we have stored it away.
It recalled not the father who loved us, but rather the fad of his day.

And I think it's as father would wish it—he'd choose to be stowed away flat.
Than that strangers should gaze on his picture and think that he once looked like that.

TEXAS OFFICER INDORSES IT

Policeman Says Plant Juice
Quickly Ended His Awful
Stomach Trouble

NOW FEELING FINE AGAIN

"Since I have taken your Plant Juice, my stomach trouble is gone and I feel better than for 20 years," declared Officer J. T. Stark, living at 546 McKinley Avenue, San Antonio, Texas, traffic policeman, while talking recently with the Plant Juice Man at San Antonio.

OFFICER J. T. STARK

"Before I took Plant Juice, it seemed like all my food would form into a lump at the pit of my stomach and it caused a sore spot there and awful suffering. I bloated up with gas and had attacks of pain in my stomach. At times, while on the way to work, mornings, I would have one of these attacks of pain and would have to stop because of the suffering. Besides this, my liver was sluggish and I had bilious headaches and pains across my back from my kidneys. I got up mornings feeling tired and worn out and as though I had not been to bed at all and I was always cross and irritable.

"I took about everything in my attempts to get relief but it seemed like nothing would help me and then, finally, I heard of Plant Juice and I want to say that words cannot express my thanks for the relief Plant Juice has given me. My appetite is fine now and my stomach is in such good condition that I believe I could eat flint rock and not suffer afterward. I am always hungry; eat anything and nothing hurts me and I have been relieved of the gas and bloating and the soreness at the pit of my stomach left like magic when I started on Plant Juice. The bilious headaches and pains in my back are gone. I sleep fine and get up mornings rested and I am gaining weight. In short, I feel better than for 20 years and surely cannot see why people will continue to suffer when Plant Juice is so easy to get."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at the Hunter drug stores, 45 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets; and at the Argonne drug store, opp. Post Office.

DANGER FROM FLOODS AT OTTAWA IS DIMINISHING

OTTAWA — All danger from a flood as a result of the condition of the Blanche river here is believed to have passed.

Early Sunday night the river began falling and there has been a steady decline in the depth of the waters. The peak of the high water was reached Sunday noon.

Weather conditions Monday aided the water situation, the warm sunshine and the wind of Sunday conspiring to hold back the flood waters. Lowlands still are flooded, but it is believed that within a day or two the river will be at spring normal. Conditions of other streams in the county, out of their banks on Saturday, are reported very close to normal.

When Women Begin To Lose Youth and Charm

Dr. Frederic S. Kelle, the New York author of recent text book whose opinions are greatly valued, writes:
 "When the nerve tissue begins to lose its vitality, woman begins to lose her youth and attractiveness. Her lively, pleasant disposition, fades away—she becomes irritable, moody and despondent. It would be a good idea if more men and women were aware of the efficacy of Bitter-Phosphates."

Thousands of this run-down people whose nervous energy is nearly exhausted are turning to Bitter-Phosphates because it revitalizes the nerves and brings back energy and mental keenness.—Adv.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should feel clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do what which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you can know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

As usual, old man, you have fallen on your feet. You have all the luck in the world. No other man on earth that I know of could have told this, what you have told Leslie and will keep her divine love, for it is divine love.

Of course understand that you have been perfectly true to Leslie since you have married her, but one swallow does not make a summer, and if I were a woman Jack, I would not trust you out of my sight. Not that I think you are a bad boy but just irresponsible.

To tell you the truth, I do not like that very minute description that you are giving of that Mrs. Atherton who works in your office.

When a woman, Jack, piques a man's curiosity continually, the story is told.

You know that a man is so constituted he can love a woman devotedly—or at least think he can love her devotedly—and be untrue to her every week.

I have always found that with you, curiosity is a greater temptation than passion and I don't like your description of that girl. Get rid of her. I don't believe that you can hurt Leslie again as you have hurt her and still keep her as your wife.

You seem to think that, now you have told Leslie that I am not the father of the boy, that I can come over there. I can't do it, Jack. I would be perfectly ill at ease and it would embarrass me more to know that Leslie knew that I knew the whole story than it did when I thought she thought I was little Jack's father.

By the way, I picked up, in Los Angeles, a lovely old piece of coral carved in the shape of a god which is supposed to bring good luck.

I'm mailing it today in a registered package to you and, if you like, I would like you to give it to Leslie. It will make a very pretty pendant with some ribbon thru it. I noticed that the women were wearing things of that kind out in the western cities.

Now I suppose that as you have made a clean breast of things you expect to live happy ever after. You say that Leslie has forgiven you, but don't be too sure of that, old man. I believe that you have taken something out of Leslie's life that you can never put back again and this loss will be with her always every time she looks at the boy.

Altho Paula Perier may not know it, she has certainly hit upon a most lasting and terrible revenge. She will not let either of you forget. I will venture, at this moment, that Leslie never picks the child up when you are in the room, and catches your eye, that she does not wonder to herself if the picture does not bring another one to your eye—a picture of the child's real mother.

However, time straightens out things one way or another. You will be either very happy or very miserable, and nothing that you can do from now on will help things at all, altho there are a great many things that you can do that will make things worse. So mind your step, Jack, mind your step.

You see, Leslie, like most girls when they marry, thought she was your first love and she has with her, all the time, indisputable proof that she was not.

I know I am an old Mill-Joy, but I can't help it, Jack.

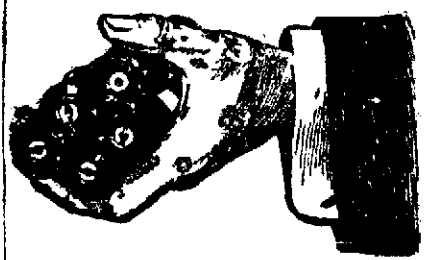

Sincerely yours, SYD.

When a woman, Jack, piques a man's curiosity continually, the story is told.

You know that a man is so constituted he can love a woman devotedly—or at least think he can love her devotedly—and be untrue to her every week.

I have always found that with you, curiosity is a greater temptation than passion and I don't like your description of that girl. Get rid of her. I don't believe that you can hurt Leslie again as you have hurt her and still keep her as your wife.

You seem to think that, now you have told Leslie that I am not the father of the boy, that I can come over there. I can't do it, Jack. I would be perfectly ill at ease and it would embarrass me more to know that Leslie knew that I knew the whole story than it did when I thought she thought I was little Jack's father.

By the way, I picked up, in Los Angeles, a lovely old piece of scarlet coral carved in the shape of a god which is supposed to bring good luck. I'm mailing it today in a registered package to you and, if you like, I would like you to give it to Leslie. It will make a very pretty pendant with some ribbon thru it. I noticed that the women were wearing things of that kind out in the western cities.

Now I suppose that as you have made a clean breast of things you expect to live happy ever after. You say that Leslie has forgiven you, but don't be too sure of that, old man. I believe that you have taken something out of Leslie's life that you can never put back again, and this loss will be with her always every time she looks at the boy.

Altho Paula Perier may not know it, she has certainly hit upon a most lasting and terrible revenge. She will not let either of you forget.

I will venture, at this moment, that Leslie never picks the child up when you are in the room, and catches your eye, that she does not wonder to herself if the picture does not bring another one to your eye—a picture of the child's real mother.

However, time straightens out things one way or another. You will be either very happy or very miserable, and nothing that you can do from now on will help things at all, altho there are a great many things that you can do that will make things worse. So mind your step, Jack, mind your step.

You see, Leslie, like most girls when they marry, thought she was your first love and she has with her, all the time, indisputable proof that she was not.

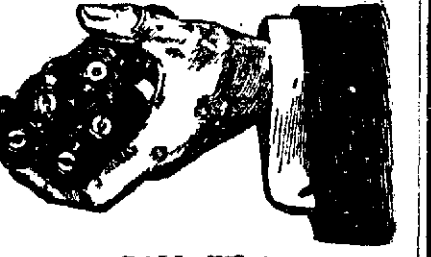

I know I am an old kill-joy, but I can't help it, Jack.

Sincerely yours, SYD.

Police, captain of the Fair Deal Five & Ten, quarrels with her policeman sweet, Michael Curtis. That night Leslie goes into the yard to take down a washing for Leslie lives. A crash shatters the earth and something strikes Leslie on the head.

When the captain commences the girl finds herself in strange surroundings. A maid calls her Alma Copeland and Madame Copeland, a tall, richly dressed woman, her to her room. Leslie, who makes her to her room, is substituted for the real Alma Copeland, real victim of the crime.

Michael Curtis becomes suspicious and goes on the trail of the Copelands. He goes information to a chaotic friend.

The sergeant had seized his hand and was shaking it violently.

"That's all I need to know about it, Joe!" Mike laughed with an odd in his voice. "You've helped me more than once before but this is the greatest thing you've ever done for me."

Leaving the excited little chemist staring blankly after him, he thrust back of his back into the envelope and strode from the drug store. Ten later he was closeted with his chief, pleading more earnestly than he had before.

"Just a week, Captain! Perhaps I won't be away that long! I have a that's the strangest in the world—"

"A clue to what, Mike?" The captain thumped his desk in exasperation. "What's the case? You know I sympathize with you in your trouble, but let me work on anything that would help to take your mind off it. I can't have you running off on a wild-goose chase without putting me to it first!"

"It's a matter of life and death, Captain, that's all I can say." There was a note of solemnity in the sergeant's tones. "I want to find a certain man and if I don't, I'll be willing to go back to pounding my head against the foundry district, besides!"

The foundry district was the toughest in town and three luckless policemen had been dead there in as many months by the gangsters who frequented it. The captain's face softened but he sat for a long minute in frowning meditation before he turned with a nod.

"All right! You're a high-handed young rascal but I'll give you your time. If you get in any mix-up where you find you're not the cheese, get word to me and I'll straighten you out."

Mike's eyes shone as he drew himself up and saluted stiffly.

"Thanks, Captain!"

A half-hour later with all his preparations completed, he started forth on his quest.

CHAPTER VI
Pals Again

The Kingsville station had long been locked up for the night and the signs of life about the sleeping village were at the garage where a powerful roadster was undergoing repairs and in the rear of the Italian shoemaker's, where a live and apparently open crap game was in progress, when a motorcycle drove up to the baggage platform and its rider dismounted.

After reconnoitering carefully he decided to commence operations by instituting a one-man raid upon the premises of luck, which proved highly successful. Breaking in a low side window with the butt of his pistol he reversed it and flashed a beam of light before the astonished gamblers could more than spring to their feet, and altho muttered oaths ran around the circle and more than one knife flashed, that steadily pointing pistol's mouth held them back and Mike spoke:

"Police Headquarters, Shaftstown. I want only the shoemaker. The rest may go."

"Giovanni, he not-a here—" began a sallow little man eagerly, but his guests paused in their scurrying exit to denounce him with one acclaim and he bowed to the inevitable.

"What you wanna wit' me?" he demanded sullenly when Mike had climbed in at the sashless aperture.

"Just to ask you some questions, Giovanni. If you'll answer 'em truthfully I'll forget I ever saw this little game, but if you lie I'll take you up for running it and you'll answer 'em over at Shaftstown."

Giovanni protested valiantly that he was well known as the most truthful in Kingsville and altho he knew nothing he would say whatever the officer might require, but Mike cut him short.

"All right. What time do you open your shop in the morning?"

"Seex o'clock. Da boys stop before go to de job."

"Never mind about that! Did you open at six last Tuesday morning?"

Giovanni nodded, evidently amazed at the question. Then his dark eyes widened.

"Da day of da beeg wreck—"

"Nothing to do with the wreck?" Mike retorted impatiently. "Did you see the seven o'clock trolley from Shaftstown stop at the station over there and a lame lady get out?"

Giovanni smiled and shrugged.

"It was not da lady who was creeped, but her shoe! Da heel is loose and in da station it come off so she limp over here an' I fix it on for her. A very fine—a young senorina but in da trouble."

"What trouble do you mean?" Mike asked quickly. "How do you know?"

"She cry. She tink I not-a see but I could not-a help." Giovanni spread out his hands. "She tremb, she shake-a like-a da leaf in da win'. I do not know what is dis-a trouble, but it seem like-a she is scared of something, maybe somebod'. She mus' go away quick but dere is-a no train, an' she ask of-a me w'er cis-a da garage. I tell-a her dat one, an' w'en her heel fix, she go."

He had pointed to the lighted service station before which the long-lined roadster still stood and Mike demanded eagerly:

"Did she hire-a car there? Did you see her leave? Which direction did they go in?"

"Sure I see!" Giovanni nodded affirmatively. "She make-a da queek-a da bag' wit' Holloran—hees-a da prop—an' den she drive-a off like-a da der-da-way."

He indicated the turnpike leading to the main State road to New York and Mike exclaimed:

"She didn't drive herself?"

"No, Frank-a Holloran, da son of da prop, hees-a drive da beeg-a red da lady she sit-a all alone behind."

"What did the lady look like?" Mike reached into his pocket and his attendant's eyes began to glisten.

"Like-a de beautiful senorina's of our bldy—blonde!" Giovanni ran his fingers in ecstasy thru his own oily black hair. "Da leetle-a shoe, it is-a so small I can hardly hol' it in-a my han' w'en I fix-a da heel. She carry-a black-a bag, verra fine bag, an' she do not-a one time let-a it out of-a her hands."

"That's enough, Giovanni. I guess that's the lady we've been asked to trace." Mike handed him a bill. "Don't pay for your broken window, but if I ever hear of your saying one word about this little talk we've had—"

The grateful Giovanni, swearing the silence of the grave, let him out the back way and he proceeded at once to the garage. There, he found the roadster evidently ready for immediate departure, for the mechanics had both gone aside and a huge, burly individual was standing talking to a tall man in motoring togs with goggles hanging in a swag from his wheel. He wore a visored cap and his face was in shadow, but his companion's was full in the light and it bore a look of honest satisfaction, as if at a job well accomplished.

"Listen to her, sir!" he was saying. "Runnin' like a song! She'd not stop on you now every five yards, let alone de smoke and raw gas comin' from her exhaust pipe!"

"Leak in the vacuum tank float? Gad, I might have known that was the trouble!" the man in the visored cap replied and at the sound of his voice Mike stood as if turned to stone, unaware that he was in the direct glare of the lamps. "I want to get on to New York as quick as—Good Lord, it isn't—Mike! Mike, old scout!"

Mike's heart leaped but the habit of the service long past was strong upon him and he drew himself up and saluted as stiffly as he had at Headquarters an hour or so before. This time the salute was interrupted, however, for the other grabbed him and enveloped him in a bear-like hug, to the interest of the garage owner and the two repair men.

"No saluting now, Mike! The war's over but not our friendship, I hope."

"Never that, Lieutenant Trevor!" Mike exclaimed when the man whose name he had saved in France released him. "I little thought to see you in these parts, sir!"

"I motored down from New York only today, and was in too much of a hurry to get back to even stop and enquire for you, Mike," Trevor replied remorsefully. "What are you doing over here, yourself?"

"Just making a few enquiries and then I'm on to New York, too. My motorcycle is just over there by the station." Mike's eyes twinkled. "Maybe I'll beat you in, but if you intend to hit her up a little don't mistake every body's Mike you hear behind you for mine!"

"I'll do better than that!" Trevor turned to the garage owner. "Will you have one of your men go over to the station, get this gentleman's motorcycle and fasten it securely to my car? He'll ride in with me."

Holloran complied but Mike remonstrated:

"Will keep you back for a few minutes, Mr. Trevor, for I want a word with this man here, if his name is 'Holloran'—"

"I'll wait till morning—" Trevor began but the garage owner stepped forward with a belligerent air.

"What do you want with me?" he demanded.

"I'm Detective-Sergeant Curtis, Shaftstown Headquarters," announced Mike succinctly. "I'm looking for information about a young woman in brown, with a brown veil, golden hair and yellow flowers on her hat. She carried a black traveling bag and engaged a big red car from you early on Tuesday morning. Your son Frank drove, and they were last seen in the direction of New York."

Holloran chuckled.

SCHOOLBOY SCRAPS TITLE HOLDER FOR HIGH HONOR

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHTS BATTLE A SECOND TIME

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Miles McTigue, light-heavyweight champion and Young Stribling, former Georgia high school boy, meet Tuesday night in Newark in a 12-round no-decision bout for the title.

McTigue is an 8 to 5 favorite in the betting to hold his title and the odds may be increased when the fighters enter the ring. The champion ought to retain his title because he will have to be knocked out or commit a foul to lose the contest. Stribling is no puncher, and it is doubtful that he could land on the clever McTigue if he had a punch.

Altho it is a long shot in the betting, it is quite possible that McTigue will stop the youngster as the champion is going out to vindicate himself and he will make a good effort to win by a knockout. Several weeks ago in a six-round battle in Buffalo, Jimmy Slattery, almost a novice, had Stribling in a bad way in the last round and almost knocked him out. The fighters agreed to make 12 rounds at 2 p. m. and neither will have any trouble making weight. It is probable that they will each be a little over the middleweight limit.

Last fall the pair met in a contest in Georgia, that had an unfortunate ending when both fighters claimed the decision. The referee was said to have been forced by the crowd to give the decision to Stribling, after he had called McTigue the winner.

Stribling will be supported by a delegation of 200 friends from the south, who arrived yesterday on a special train.

Harry Lewis, one of the most competent and experienced officials in the state, has been selected as the referee.

(BY HARRY BRADBURY) Sports Editor

Miles McTigue, who has been given the light-heavyweight title, thru his victory over "Battling" Siki, in Ireland, does not seem to measure up to what would be the unquestioned championship title. There has always been a shade of doubt.

McTIGUE ALL READY FOR STRIBLING

NEWARK, N. J.—Miles McTigue, of Ireland, light-heavyweight, and Young Stribling of Macon, Ga., meet tonight in a 12 round no-decision fight.

Stribling has advanced rapidly thru six divisions within the last three years and first attracted wide attention in his bout with McTigue at Columbus, Georgia, where, the champion alleged, a partisan crowd attempted to intimidate him and the referee. Since that battle Stribling has fought successfully and often, but has never been sensational. He was outpointed in Buffalo several weeks ago by Jimmy Slattery.

MANY ATHLETES IN OHIO RELAYS

COLUMBUS — More than 500 college and high school athletes, some of them American Olympic team possibilities, are expected to compete in the inaugural of the Ohio relays here April 19, under the auspices of Ohio State University. The meet will be held in the Ohio Stadium.

Athletic officials are still trying to line up additional features for the relays. Efforts are being made to get Charlie Paddock, sprinter, to take part in one event and hope is still being entertained that Cambridge University, England, may find a way to enter its relay quartet which will compete in the Pennsylvania relays a week later. The running hop, step and jump has been added to the list of events, which number nearly fifty.

THE JINX AND CHAMPIONSHIPS

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Because no teams have ever before won four pennants in successive years, it is figured by some that the New York clubs will carry a jinx in their efforts to do it this season.

Miller Huggins, lawyer, as well as a baseball player by trade, and smart at both professions, is superstitious.

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, gives evidence frequently of superstition, but he denies that he has a weakness that way. He explains that he does it to keep his players in the mood. If they feel that he is hurting the team by doing something, he doesn't do it unless he has to.

The handicap that is imposed upon a team that has won three championships consecutively is not particularly one of an unnatural source. It is very natural.

Players who have been on a team addicted to the winning habit get to thinking too well of themselves. Connie Mack had to break up one of the greatest of all baseball machines because it had been winning too much. The players got so they expected it and they thought it would come to them quite naturally.

John McGraw said recently that the Giants showed signs of chestiness last summer and that he had decided then that he would have to get some new faces on the team. He proceeded then to go out and get some new faces. The Giants would not have won the pennant this year as they were constituted last year and perhaps they will not do it the way they are now.

The Yankees are more in danger of falling victim to the superiority complex this season than the Giants are. The Yankees had such an easy time last year winning the pennant that they may get the idea they can lead thru this season. Once they start losing it will be hard for Huggins to get them out of it.

Huggins acts on the theory that his men are not kids and that they are not in a military outfit. He lets them follow their idea of living and training until they go wrong, and then he hands them a spanking.

McGraw acts on the other theory, that there is only one way to keep his players straight, and that is by forcing them to do as he says. He watches what they do off the field, he knows what time they get into their rooms at night and he knows what is going on when they are in their rooms. He has one lieutenant who is delegated to the task of keeping him posted on what the players are doing.

The Giants had a hard fight last season. They know they are to have a harder fight this season. Because they are three-time champions, perhaps they do not feel that the Reds are the favorites to win the championship, but they do know that they can't last any day in the whole season. McGraw wouldn't let them loaf, if they wanted to do it.

Modern fathers, who are being advised to raise their sons for the ring instead of the banker's office, the chemist's laboratory or the lawyer's suite, might consider that there are less fool ways of making money quickly than in having the face punched crooked, that there are less sure ways to live easily than by going thru the terrific career of a ball player.

Make the boy a bike rider! Alf Goulet, one of the star riders in the recent six-day bike race in Madison Square Garden, got $10,000, and he didn't win the race. If his partner, Granda, had not sustained a fractured shoulder in a spill, he might have won first prize, at which he would have been handed $2,000 more.

Goulet is a big card. He is the Ruth of the track.

He made more than $35,000 last year, and he did it all on his bike.

Maurice Brocco, a little Italian, the most popular of all the riders, told friends, after the last race, that he had saved every cent he had ever been paid for riding in the Garden, and that he had more than $25,000 in this particular account.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Bernie Nelis, outfielder, and official of the Brooklyn club were still on the outs today. Nelis insists that he has quit the team and that he will play with the Beloit outlaw club. Nelis was told by the club to find a trade for himself.

BAKER WON'T STRENGTHEN PHILLIES

(BY JOE WILLIAMS)

LESBURG, Fla. — The Phillies have about as much to look forward to as a milk fed hen that has fallen reluctantly but none the less securely into the hands of a dark-skinned midnight prowler, which is to say they will finish no worse than eighth.

The magnanimous Mr. Baker, who owns the ball club, hasn't spent a dime to strengthen it and the Phillies happen to be a ball club that doesn't need strengthening any more than a horse needs hoofs.

Last year the Phillies finished an earnest and emphatic last. You'd naturally think that some serious effort would be made to rebuild. Connie Mack, for example, didn't hesitate to pay considerable sums for new bats after the Athletics pulled up base on sixth place. This season to show that the material was available.

The manager what the big league club Baker has done to rebuild the Philadelphia fans a season's entertainment.

It is known that he is addicted to vicious habits which are not at all in keeping with the best precedents. From this standpoint I cannot concede where McTigue can, with all and rightfully be called champion of his division. This questionable bout with Young Stribling on October 1, last in which the referee changed his decision on less than three times, still sticks in the craw. Stribling is still as strong in his claims that he won as McTigue.

SANDLOT "BEAUTIES" — The two most promising pitchers among the newcomers are Howard Carlson, a Pittsburg disc-card, who was drafted from Wichita Falls, and the ancient Earl Hamilton. No other major league club thought enough of Carlson to buy him, so he fell to the frugal Mr. Baker in the draft.

Hamilton, long since thru as an effective workman, was picked up for nothing, a free agent.

Benny Helgeth and Leonard Metz are the outstanding infield prospects. All Helgeth cost was car fare from Chicago, where he played semi-pro ball, to Leesburg. A vicious rumor is afloat that he was even asked to make the trip in a day coach. Metz came from Nebraska State League and must have cost all of six bits and a red crayon.

The other "million-dollar beauties" on Mr. Baker's enormous pay roll are Fritz Henrich and Fred Krisinger. Henrich, you know, is that great right-handed outfielder you've been reading so much about. What? You never heard of him? Why, he was a star in the Philadelphia Twilight League last year.

REFUSES TO SPEND $8,000 — And surely Krisinger needs no

introduction. Krisinger was a right-handed pitcher on a Chicago sandlot team last year. There are only 4786 sandlot teams in Chicago, and young Fred was a pretty good pitcher. One of those squads, we'll love you know.

National League baseball in Philadelphia ought to be boycotted as long as the present mismanaging policy is maintained. Newspaper writers with the club tell you about a certain minor league pitcher who was recommended last year. The pitcher met with the approval of Art Fletcher, the manager. The cost was $8,000. The open-handed Mr. Baker, however, decided that was too much money to spend on a last-place ball club, so the pitcher went elsewhere.

The Phillies intend to finish eighth again this year with an unchanged lineup, except that Powell, outfielder, and Ford, second baseman, who came from Boston in the deal for Cotton Tierney, will be on hand. Fletcher thinks Sands at short will have a real year. Cy Williams, the home-run hitter, and Jimmy Ring, the pitcher, are the only ball players on the team.

Working Out The Kinks

NEW ORLEANS, La. — After taking a 7 to 5 beating from the New Orleans club, the Yankees broke camp and left for Mobile, where they will start an exhibition tour that will carry them back to New York.

ORLANDO, Fla. — After completing their spring training at Sarasota, the Giants were here today to start a long exhibition series with the Chicago White Sox on the way home. McGraw said the Giants would train again in Sarasota if they could get better hotel accommodations.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — With Jimmy Jones, high priced rookie, in camp, Manager Robinson tried a new infield combination with Fournier on first, Johnston on second, Jones at short and Finch on third. The Robins will not break camp here until Thursday.

SAN ANTONIO — Dudley Lee's $50,000 rookie shortstop saved the day again for the Boston Red Sox, when he poled a long sacrifice fly in the tenth inning that scored Harris with the run that beat San Antonio 7 to 6. The club breaks camp Monday night.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The Braves have not yet recovered from the effects of their strenuous trip to Sarasota last Saturday. Official of the club said they would arrange no games away from their training camp next spring.

LAKELAND, Fla. — The Cleveland Indians will break camp Tuesday, will play at Atlanta Wednesday, Thursday in Mobile and go on to New Orleans, where they will spend a week before leaving for the north.

AUGUSTA, Ga. — After a rest Sunday the Cobb's Tigers are due for a strenuous drill Monday to prepare them for an exhibition tour starting Wednesday.

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — The Chicago Cubs and the Pirates will open a three-game series here today. Sunday the Cubs split a double header with the Oakland club at Oakland, winning the first 3 to 4 and losing the second 3 to 5.

WINTERHAVEN, Fla. — The Chicago White Sox left early today for Orlando, Fla., for their third game of the exhibition series with the New York Giants. Each team has won one game.

ORLANDO, Fla. — The Reds started their final week of training here today with all hands in good shape except Eppa Rixey. The big hurler is recovering from an injured left knee, but will be in uniform later in the week. It is very likely Pete Donohue will be chosen to pitch the opening game for the Reds April 15.

MOBILE, Ala. — The Browns showed real form in walloping the Mobile Bears 10 to 0 Sunday. George Siskier's club will play the New Orleans Pelicans there Wednesday in the first game of their homeward tour.

BRADENTOWN, Fla. — The Cardinals will wind up their southern trip with five games in succession with the Milwaukee Brewers, starting today.

In the exhibition game between Minneapolis of the American Association and Houston of the Texas League, the latter was victorious by a score of 4-3. Batteries were Griffin, Lynch and Meyer for Minneapolis; Kirchner, Parfoot, Dinand and McCurdy.

SARASOTA, Fla. — (United Press) — Having doubts apparently about the ability of Honie Groh to play thru the season, Manager McGraw is using George Kelly at third base and Bill Terry at first. The Giants were smacked 10 to 7 in the official game yesterday with the Milwaukee Association club.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

The popularity of baseball grows with each succeeding season until today its adherents are numbered by millions. There are other popular games but none so popular as baseball. There are few cities, of 50,000 population and more that is without representation in some league. Lima will have its first league ball in several years and already the interest is growing, because there is more to play for than empty honors. Lima will have to keep her head high, will have to trot fast and strong to win the first pennant, for there is in the making one of the fastest little leagues in the country. There is much real talent lying dormant to be developed and this league is just the thing to discover it. It is true that in past seasons baseball devotees of Lima have seen some mighty fine games, and there have been times when friendly rivalry was at the boiling point. But with a close score and a slight margin between first and second place in the league standing, the boiling point of enthusiasm will be as an ice cream social compared to a Kill-kinney fair. The spirit for victory lies dormant in the breast of the fan, but just wait until the sun is melted thru summer sun and watch the result. League ball means better ball, where greater interest is at stake, where a victory is waited with an anxiety that sets the nerves quivering. Nothing, no game quite fills the bill for the ardent sport as a game of league ball.

INTEREST EVER ON THE INCREASE

Historians concede that the present game of baseball originated at Green's School, in Cooperstown, N. Y., in 1839, and that Major General Abner Doubleday was the originator. He is credited with starting the ball. Cannon—that got the good people of the north and south all "hot up," but in drawing his crude plan of a baseball diamond to the students of that institution of knowledge he was the inspiration that since that day over 85 years ago, fired the minds of millions of baseball fans with enthusiasm for the great national pastime that has never been equalled in the history of sport.

One, of necessity must stop, if he begins the task of pursuing the tremendous growth of the national game in the hearts of Americans.

ANOTHER SIDE TO WONDER AT

There was another side to baseball in its incipience, that all but wrecked its glorious present, and future. That was the old National association of professional baseball clubs, organized in New York in 1871. Always honest sport has had to fight dishonesty. The pioneers of baseball fought stubbornly against unscrupulous foes. It flourished in 1871 and died naturally because the disease of crookedness is incurable. But after results remained for a long time, and with a tremendous effort, they fought back, they had gained back the good graces of the public. The present status of the National league, since its first organization in 1875 have had many battles against this dishonesty and crookedness, but they have always won the game with honesty and sportsmanship.

The league has prospered ever wonderfully, thru honesty.

So the Northern Ohio league will give to the people of Lima and its other towns, clean, honest ball, and it believes that in doing that it will become an honored institution, part and parcel of the thousands of devotees within its sphere.

LAKELAND, Fla. — Earl Levens, Iowa recruit, pitching for the Indians blew up in the sixth, and the Brooklyn Dodgers scored six runs, turning a 3 to 2 score against them into a 5 to 3 victory.

BRADENTOWN, Fla. — The Cardinals went to St. Petersburg to tackle the Braves, after beating the Senators here yesterday 3 to 2 in a hard fought game. Doak pitched five innings for St. Louis.

CHICAGO—Forty star basketball teams, from 31 states, gathered here Monday for the national inter-scholastic tournament under the auspices of the University of Chicago. Play gets under way Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. All entrants are state of sectional champions.

PINEBURST, N. C.—Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, former national women's champion, having swept thru a field of strong competitors by playing almost par golf, Friday meets Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, Ohio, women's champion of that city, in the final of the annual North and South Women's golf championship tournament here.

LEESBURG, Fla. — Chicago's White Sox tottered a 4 to 3 defeat at hands of the Phillies here yesterday. The Sox who thus far have gone thru the pre-season games in good order, exploded in the sixth.

By Cobb's Greatest Need Is Second Baser, Yet He Sends "Brightest Star" to Bushes

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Here is one for the well-known ledger. Ty Cobb has been trying to land a second baseman for the Tigers for the last four years. Ty thinks he might have won the pennant last year if he had had a star second baseman.

This year he has what he calls the "best looking young second baseman I ever saw." AND HE IS SENDING HIM AWAY!

The goal in point is Charley Gehring of Fowlerville, Mich. Gehring has hands like Lutzke of the Indians and is built like Kamm of the White Sox. And in fielding skill he is the equal of Shiner.

"I never saw a man who was surer on a ground-hit ball," Cobb says.

Gehring, however, has never played a professional game of ball in his life. He came up in Cobb in Detroit last fall and asked for a tryout. That's how he happens to be here. Naturally he is terribly green, and he has no style at all at the plate.

Cobb gives a year in the minors will just about make him. "I'd give my right arm to be able to use him now," adds the Tiger leader.

Heavy Selling Follows Drop in Early Trading

NATIONAL GAINS SCORED

Movements of Rail Shares, However, Are Mixed

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Stock prices moved within narrow limits in the opening of today's market. Heavy selling again developed in the early trading, but a general recovery followed a point while the industrial paper fell back on a basis. Steel and Anaconda dropped to new lows for the year.

General tendencies became more pronounced as trading progressed. The Standard Oil of Indiana, Republic, Crucible and Great Lakes Steel 8 percent notes, Kelly-Springfield 8 percent notes, and Reynolds Tobacco B. C. Industrial Chemical, American Hide and Leather preferred, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Guyanell Fruit showed improved strength, gaining a point or more. Baldwin dropped a point but most of the other standard industrials showed little change. Foreign exchanges opened firm.

A brisk recovery set in around the end of the first hour. General Electric moving up four points on buying apparently inspired by the excellent 1923 report. Corn Products rallied over three points but these two issues forfeited part of their gains on a wave of profit-taking. Good buying continued, however, in other parts of the list, the steels and motor accessories climbing rapidly on short covering. Gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points were registered by United States, Republic and Crucible, Stromberg Carburators, Stewart-Warner and Fisher Body.

American Can and Baldwin also rallied briskly, as did the leather issues, rails were mixed, strength of Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and Lackawanna being counteracted by the heaviness of Wash. preferred B, Union Pacific and St. Louis Southwestern, Otis Elevator and Canalsat cigar preferred, each dropping 3 points. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

JUDGE ASKS $800
PAY BOOST

Claims Salary Withheld Months by Commissioners

SALARY INCREASE OF $800 A YEAR for Judge Neil R. Poling of Lima criminal court is proposed in a resolution introduced Monday before county commissioners.

The increase if allowed will make Judge Poling's salary $2,800, instead of $2,000. Since January the county has paid all of the criminal court judge's salary. The county stopped payment on Dec. 31, 1923.

On January 1 under an old ordinance passed during Judge Jackson's tenure of office Poling's pay was boosted from $1,500 to $2,000 by the city. Judge Jackson had not been able to draw the increase, because the money was voted while he was in office.

Judge Poling is seeking to have the county money restored and make retroactive from January 1, 1924. Two county commissioners are known to favor the boost.

ELECTRICAL MEASURE UP FOR COMMISSION PASSAGE

Revised electrical code establishing a uniform system of electrical installation within the city will be presented Monday night for passage under suspension of rules.

Solicitor Paul T. Landis announced Monday that changes authorized by city commission have been included in the measure which tends to eliminate fire hazards with inspections under supervision of an electrical inspector to be named by the city manager.

MARCH MARRIAGES FEWER
THIS YEAR RECORD SHOWS

MARRIAGES IN LIMAS for the month of March showed a decided decrease from the figure set a year ago, Miss Jessie Pleasure, Miller, license clerk in probate court declares.

Last year Miss Miller said 46 licenses in March, while this year she disposed of 31 and four banns were filed.

But she added that difference might be attributed to the fact that Easter fell on April 1 last year, and many couples were married on that date.

BRIEFS IN SCOTT CASE
TO BE FILED TUESDAY

No arguments will likely be presented in the case, the court either granting or denying a writ, on the basis of the law cited by the briefs.

Scott is awaiting sentence and has been in jail since his arrest, early in October.

These cars must go this week without fail, and they will go, if those of you, who are figuring on buying a car this Spring will visit our Show Room. You cannot help but realize that we are offering dollar for dollar, for every car in our show room.

Enjoy the pleasures of driving without the financial worryment it sometimes necessitates. You can do this with one of our cars, for we have terms that will suit you, and your pocketbook.

These cars have all been re-possessed from the original owners who were unable to keep up their payments. You get the advantage of what they have paid.

Don't fail to visit our show rooms today, for at such prices these cars are bound to go.

You can rely absolutely on any used car you buy from us. You can rest assured it is
O. K., or we wouldn't put it in our Show Rooms.

Loosen Up That Cold
With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all the advantages of a grand old mustard plaster without the blister. You just apply it to the fingers. First you feel a warm tingling as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frostbite, colic of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."

To Mothers: Musterole is made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
